Office Action Summary

Art Unit: 1711

1. An amendment (paper no. 5) has been filed on Dec 17, 2002.
2. Objection to claims 5-8, 11, 13, 14, 16 and 17 (see item 2 of prior Office action, paper no. 4) and rejection of claim 12 and 15 (item 4 of same Office action) are now withdrawn.
3. The text of those sections of Title 35, U.S. Code not included in this action can be found in a prior Office action.

Claims 1, 2, 4, 9 and 10 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamamoto et al (USP 6184312) in view of Fuhr et al (USP 5658974).

Claim 3 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamamoto et al (USP 6184312) in view of Fuhr et al (USP 5658974) as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of JP 58076447 (Abstract in English).

Claim 12 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamamoto et al (USP 6184312) in view of Fuhr et al (USP 5658974) as applied to claims 1 and 11 above, and further in view of Wittman et al (USP 5030675).

Claim 15 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamamoto et al (USP 6184312) in view of Fuhr et al (USP 5,658,974) as applied to claims 1 and 14, and further in view of Nishihara et al (USP 6,093,760).

These rejections are incorporated by reference from prior office action paper no.

- 4.
4. Applicant's arguments filed December 17, 2002 (paper no. 5) have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Art Unit: 1711

Applicants' argument that Fuhr does not disclose the claimed phosphoric ester is not persuasive. Applicant has not conclusively proved that the ester of Fuhr is different from the claimed one-even assuming that it is different, the examiner is of the opinion that it is not patentably distinguishable. Furthermore, it is conventional and also obvious to a person of ordinary skill in the art to modify the ester such as that of Fuhr by introducing few reactive groups in the molecule.

5. Claims 14 and 15 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamamoto et al (USP 6184312) in view of Fuhr et al (USP 5658974) as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Choi et al (USP 5087521) or Narushima et al (USP 3948836).

Yamamoto together with Fuhr fails to teach (claimed) stabilizer.

Choi discloses heat stabilizer of instant claim 15 in col. 3, lines 57-59.

Narushima also discloses same stabilizer in col. 7, lines 52-53.

It would therefore be obvious to add that stabilizer to the composition of Yamamoto to impart heat stability.

6. Claim 13 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Yamamoto et al (USP 6184312) in view of Fuhr et al (USP 5658974) as applied to claim 1 above, and further in view of Umeda et al (USP 5449710).

Yamamoto in combination with Fuhr fails to disclose the metal salt of instant claim 13.

Umeda discloses the same salt in col. 2, lines 36-40.

Art Unit: 1711

It would have been obvious to add the said salt to the composition of Yamamoto to enhance flame retardancy without any tendency to drip.

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
